Camino del Norte, Santander to Oviedo - Spain

3rd stage Camino del Norte

11 days, PRICE FROM € 1050

This section of the Camino del Norte takes you from the coastal town of Santander to the fun, beautiful Oviedo - known as one of the foodie capitals of Spain. Prepare for great views of the ocean, a reassuring, constant presence that sometimes disappear as you venture inland through orchards and hills - but there it is again, when you least expect it, amazing you just like the first time. Along the way, charming Medieval towns and Modernist buildings.

Route

Day 1 Arrival in Santander

The tranquil coastal town of Santander is the perfect place to embark on your journey. Soak in the gorgeous views of the Bay of Biscay as you stroll along the promenade and explore the city's beautiful architecture, including the magnificent Centro Botín for Modern Art

Day 2 Santander – Santillana, 24/36 km

Our suggestion for the start of the day is to cover the first section with a train to Boo de Pielagos - you won't miss much, as it runs in the urban area South of Santander. It also cuts the first 14 km, making it easier as a first day of walking. (thus skipping the first 14 km). You'll find a much more serene landscape after that section - a meditative, beautiful walk taking you to the enchanting Medieval town of Santillana del Mar, home to the famous Cueva de Altamira.

Distance: 24 or 36 km

Elevation gain: +460/-520 m

Day 3 Santillana - Comillas, 22 km

Today's route alternates land and sea as you walk through the placid and beautiful Cantabrian countryside and along its coast; today's destination, Comillas, is well known for its modernist style building, including El Capricho, one of Gaudi's first works.

Distance: 22 km

Elevation gain: +460/-520m

Day 4 Comillas - Unquera/Bustio, 28 km

Today's walk is very rural, an immersion in the local countryside - you'll cross several bridges and pass by marshes and open fields until San Vicente de la Barquera, a picturesque fishing village. At the end of the stage, you'll reach the river Deva that marks the border between Cantabria and Asturias.

Distance: 28 km

Elevation gain: + 460/-520m

Day 5 Unquera/Bustio - Llanes, 25 km

Today starts with a short climb to Colombres, a small town known for its "Casas de Indianos", impressive villas built by wealthy remigrants from the Americas. . The stage ends in Llanes, known for its historic district a town with a historic center that gets really lively in Summer, as well as the fishermen's port and its artistic breakwater.

Distance: 25 km

Elevation gain: + 320/-400 m

Day 6 Llanes - Ribadesella, 30 km

The first half of this long but gentle route passes by beautiful beaches such as Palombina, Torimbina and San Antolín - you'll be tempted to stop walking and just spend the rest of the day here! - before turning inland, immersed in the meditative countryside. Today's destination is Ribadesella, a coastal town famous for its prehistoric caves.

Note: if you want to have more time to explore both Llanes and Ribadesella, we can split this stage in two and book and overnight in Nueva de Llanes; aproximately halfway

Distance: 30 km

Elevation gain: + 330/-340 m

Day 7 Ribadesella - Colunga, 20 km

Today's route is very scenic, with mountains and good views of the coast, and passing by several beaches: Santa Marina (in Ribadesella), La Vega, Arenal de Morís (somewhat remote), La Espasa and La Isla. At the end of the walk, the small town of Colunga will welcome you with its authentic charm and warm hospitality.

Distance: 20 km

Elevation gain: + 340/-330 m

Day 8 Colunga - Villaviciosa, 18 km

Today's short route takes you through orchards and farmland as you head away from the coast, plunging into the agricultural heartland of Asturias, through more mountainous terrain than on previous days and past tiny rural hamlets. Your route takes you to Villaviciosa, famous for its cider production.

Distance: 18km

Elevation gain: +190/-170m

Day 9 Villaviciosa - Pola de Siero, 26 km

Today you turn towards the interior of Asturias; Leaving Villaviciosa behind, you traverse the rolling hills of Asturias, arriving in the bustling market town of Pola de Siero, transitioning from peaceful countryside to a lively urban atmosphere.

Distance: 26km

Elevation gain: +530/-170m

Day 10 Pola de Siero – Oviedo, 17 km

Your short route today culminates as you make your way to Oviedo. The final stretch guides you through charming villages and quaint woodlands, bringing you to the capital of Asturias. Visit the magnificent Oviedo Cathedral and savor the local cuisine at one of the city's many restaurants or sidrerías (cider bars).

Distance: 17km

Elevation gain: + 190/-170m

Day 11 Arrivederci, Oviedo!
